I just noticed it is on my calendar for tomorrow, so I must be on the right list.

Sorry for the confusion!

Thanks,

---

Michelle,

I am copying Ben and Lara Floyd.

There is one tomorrow to review Lauren Heine's report.

I will forward the invite.

Hello-

Who manages the Green Chemistry calls? I used to be on those meeting invites but no longer seem to be. Would like to attend those meetings if possible.

Thanks,

The Department of Ecology (Ecology) is beginning a rulemaking to consider amending the Water Quality Standards for Surface Waters of the State of Washington, Chapter 173-201A Washington Administrative Code (WAC). Ecology is considering adopting one or more variances to the water quality standards that meet the requirements of WAC 173-201A-420 (Variance section), for polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) for the Spokane River, in water resource inventory area (WRIA) 57.

Ecology will consider amending sections of Chapter 173-201A WAC that address variances to the standards, including amendments to 173-201A-420 (Variance) and 173-201A-602 (Table 602-use designations for fresh waters by water resource inventory area), as well as any other sections that need to be amended to support adopting the above-noted variances.
